Health and Safety: Please prioritize your health and safety. If you are experiencing respiratory issues due to poor air quality, consider wearing masks when outdoors. Keep yourself hydrated and follow any health advisories from local health departments.

Recovery Assistance: We understand that rebuilding and recovering from the aftermath of a wildfire is a daunting task. There are organizations and agencies dedicated to providing support in terms of housing, insurance claims, and other aspects of recovery. The following agencies can provide you with assistance.

- Red Cross Hawaii
- Federal Emergency Management Agency Hawai'i
- Maui United Way

Emotional Support: It's natural to feel overwhelmed during such circumstances. Reach out to friends, family, or mental health professionals to talk about your feelings and emotions. Your well-being is important. The EAP program mentioned above provides free counseling services and will match you or a family member with a provider. In addition, the following resources can provide support:

- Disaster Distress Helpline regarding Wildfires
- English Flyer - Disaster Distress Helpline
- Spanish Flyer - Linea de Ayuda
- American Sign Language - Disaster Distress Helpline
- No Shame Get Help for additional mental health resources
- Hawai'i CARES: If you are experiencing a mental health or substance use crisis text, call, or chat the Hawai'i 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline.
- Disaster Distress Helpline \(DDH\): The DDH (call or text 1-800-985-5990; press "2" for Spanish) provides crisis counseling and support for anyone in the U.S. experiencing distress or other behavioral health concerns related to any natural or human-caused disaster. Calls, texts, and Videophone calls for deaf or hard of hearing American Sign Language users are answered by a network of independently-operated crisis centers around the country, who provide psychological first aid, emotional support, crisis assessment and intervention, and referrals to local or state behavioral health services for follow-up care and support. The DDH is a program of the U.S. Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) administered by Vibrant Emotional Health.

Community Support: Our community is strong, and we are here to support each other. Many local businesses, organizations, and individuals are offering help in various forms. Whether it's donations, volunteering, or providing resources, we are all in this together. Resources are listed below, and we will continue to share more information as it becomes available.
